

Kwik Model (Software) TRIAL VERSION License Agreement

By activating a copy of the trial version, you agree to the following.

The trial version of the software carries no warranty. Use at your own risk.

The trial version has limited functionality. The purpose of the trial version is only to evaluate the software prior to purchasing. It is not intended for creating fully useable system designs or calculations, except for evaluation purposes. You may create a complete design in the trial version but it may not be exported to another computer until the full version is purchased. Performing any of the following tasks until the trial version has been converted to a full version is a violation of this agreement, unless requested by Coded Energy, Inc.:

1. Taking screenshots of the trial software,
2. Printing reports from the trial software
3. Transferring project files, images, exported tables or other data generated by the trial software to another computer
4. Using the trial software for professional services, unless you intend to buy the full version
5. Downloading the trial version more than once per person

When contacting Coded Energy, Inc. or its agents for technical support user must disclose that he or she is using the trial version.

All trademarks, copyrights and patents will be honored, as required by law.

© 2020 Coded Energy, Inc.